Electronic Systems Announces 2009 Leadership Award Recipients

Virginia Beach, Virginia—February 10, 2010—Electronic Systems, Inc. (ESI) today announced the recipients of its coveted leadership awards for 2009. PTG Major Accounts Sales Manager, Jeff Jenney of Virginia Beach, was honored with the Bill Kamarek Award. ISG Professional Services Manager, Bill Flannagan of Virginia Beach, and PTG Field Service Manager, Troy Toms of Roanoke, were selected to receive the Semper Fi Award.

Employees nominated managers who exemplified leadership traits linked to company success, including business acumen, customer focus, ethical conduct, and outstanding communication skills. The Bill Kamarek Award was named after ESI's founder, and recognizes those who, like the award's namesake, focus their vision for excellence outside of the company as well as within it. They are distinguished by their ongoing commitment to entrepreneurship, innovation, mentorship, and community service. The Semper Fi Award acknowledges those whose exceptional loyalty to the company motivates them to do whatever they must to complete a job well. They create solutions that exceed expectations by embracing passion, teamwork, and respect.

"These individuals work hard every day to provide unmatched service and expertise in everything they do. They serve as role models and ambassadors of ESI's core values," said Barbara Wielicki, Vice President of Human Resources. "We are proud of the positive impact they have had on our company's relationship with its customers and our community."

The award recipients were honored last month at the company's Annual Awards Luncheon held in Virginia Beach.
